Peter Perrin, PhD
DDRCC Program Director, NIDDK

A Beginner's Guide to NIH

Dr. Perrin is the Program Director for all NIDDK-sponsored Digestive Diseases Research Core Centers, including the UCSF Liver Center. He also supervises several GI-related research programs at NIDDK focusing on mucosal immunology, the gastrointestinal microbiome and GI infectious diseases, gastrointestinal cell biology and intestinal stem cell biology. He is a strong advocate for junior and early-stage investigators.
